Hitch Reported in Tentative Plans for Revival of Sport—Saratoga Meeting Regarded as Extremely Probable.

New York, March 25.—According to persons in touch with the racing situation in this state there is a hitch in the plans to revive the sport this year and unless certain obstacles are overcome it will not be surprising if Saratoga is the only track to open its gates, unless Brighton Beach suddenly comes to life.

It is a foregone conclusion now that Aqueduct, Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay and Jamaica will not attempt to re-open under present conditions. All of these tracks are within the city limits and just now it is believed that it would be inadvisable to experiment at any of them.

The Brighton track is in the hands of a receiver, but if William A. Engeman can unravel the financial tangle at the Beach it will not be a shock to turfmen to hear that Brighton is ready to hold a summer meeting regardless of the attitude of the other racing associations.

James Butler has revealed nothing that indicates a resumption of racing at Empire City. Mr. Butler has consulted privately with the other owners of New York race courses since his return from Juarez, Mex., but has declined to talk for publication. At the Empire City track it is proposed to lay out a half-mile trotting course in the infield, but so far no arrangements have been made to fit the plant for the summer.

The Westchester Racing Association is at a standstill regarding Belmont Park. Nothing has been done so far to put the great track at Queens in shape for a spring meeting, but of course there is plenty of time if it is the plan to put on a meeting there in June.

The plan already discussed by the various racing associations, which believe that Belmont Park is the logical place to start a renewal of racing, involves a cash guarantee of at least $50,000 to cover expenses. It is believed that the owners of the track, which each racing association was asked recently to put up $10,000 to help finance a meeting of eighteen days at Belmont Park.

It is understood that the tracks included in the request were Sheepshead, Gravesend, Aqueduct, Jamaica, Empire City and Saratoga. As P. J. Dwyer controls Gravesend and Aqueduct, it was suggested that he might make one $10,000 contribution to cover both courses.

The plan met with some opposition and also caused considerable friction. It has been suggested that the Westchester Racing Association can go ahead without assistance, while Saratoga should be equally able to paddle its own canoe.

If Mr. Engeman can make arrangements to race at Brighton, thereby inviting a test at the instance of Brooklyn reformers, it is hinted that he can have some stiff backing from certain quarters. But this is merely gossip, which can be traced to no authentic source.

Saratoga is said to be sure to race, however, and soon it is expected that R. T. Wilson, president of the track at the spa, will be in a position to make a definite announcement. It may turn out that Belmont Park will precede Saratoga, but it doesn't look that way just now.

The Court of Appeals meanwhile has been asked to pass on the legality of the decision in the Paul Shane case. Under the Seidler decision, affirmed by the Appellate Division, the Shane case is calculated to permit the tracks to open under rather precarious conditions. It is believed that the racing interests have been advised by counsel to proceed rather slowly until the higher court has handed down a final opinion.

A bill wiping out all the conditions pronounced within the law by the lower courts has been introduced at Albany and a statewide campaign for its advancement is well under way.

MISSOURI RACING MEASURE FAILS.

Passed by Senate Without Dissenting Vote, House Is Unable to Act on It Before Adjournment.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 25.—The bill to provide for the appointment of a state racing commission for Missouri, which passed the Senate without a dissenting vote, was not reached on the House calendar prior to the adjournment of the Legislature on account of the pressure of other business. While the measure failed of enactment into law, it served a useful purpose in demonstrating that the sentiment against racing in this state is disappearing. The text of the bill, introduced by Senator Rogers, and amended and recommended for passage by the committee on agriculture, is as follows:

to promote and foster fair associations in this state; to establish a fair commission, prescribing its powers and duties, so that all fairs may be educational and auxiliary and providing for the payment of thirty per cent. of the total amounts of premiums at any annual fair or agricultural society and appropriating such money.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, as follows:

Section 1. State Fair Commission.—The State Fair Commission is hereby established, to consist of five members to be appointed by the governor, each member holding his office for four years, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified. The first members of the commission shall be appointed within twenty days after this act goes into effect. Each member of the commission shall receive $5.00 per day for each day of actual service, together with his necessary traveling and hotel expenses. The expense of the State Fair Commission shall be paid out of the fund created by this act.

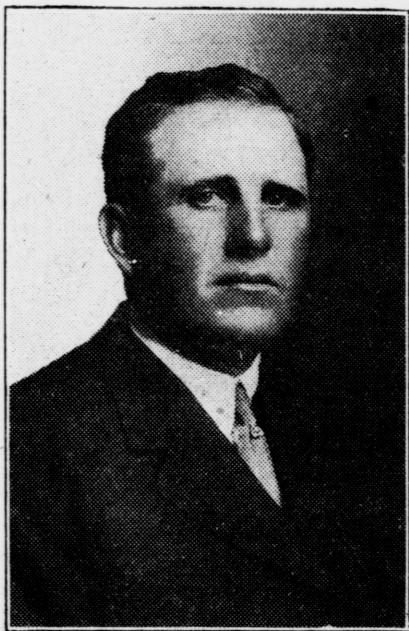

Sec. 2. Secretary of Commission.—Duties and Salary.—The State Fair Commission shall employ a secretary who shall not be one of their number, who shall hold his office during the pleasure of the commission and who shall receive a salary not to exceed $2,000 a year. The commission shall prescribe the duties of said secretary, and also the place where he shall hold his office and shall procure an office room and necessary stationery for him.

Sec. 3. Monthly Reports to Be Made.—The State Fair Commission shall make monthly reports to the State Board of Agriculture, so that said board may distribute in the form of bulletins or otherwise, all the knowledge accumulated for the betterment of farmers, breeders and producers of the state.

Sec. 4. The State Fair Commission shall make a full report to the general assembly of its proceedings for the past two years ending the first day of December, preceding each regular session of the general assembly. There shall be embodied in such report such suggestions and recommendations as the commission shall deem advisable.

Sec. 5. Powers and Duties.—The state fair commission shall have the power to prescribe the rules, regulations and conditions under which live stock past two or three years include Via Octavia, Harvey F. E. and Summer Night. Of the horses that he recently handled with success for other owners Rousseau is probably best known. He trained this sprinter for E. Murray and made a great showing with him.

A WELL KNOWN AND SUCCESSFUL EASTERN TRAINER

James Fitzsimmons' first connection with racing was as a jockey in the days when the sport flourished on the New Jersey tracks. When increasing weight cut short his riding career he naturally took up training as a vocation. He is a man of agreeable personality and enjoys an unexcelled reputation for probity and straightforwardness, not only on the turf, but in all his dealings with his fellowmen.

THIRTY LEADING MONEY-WINNING OWNERS OF 1913

Some of the more successful owners racing their horses at Charleston and Juarez have already rolled up desirable totals of stable earnings and have the foundations laid for good records for the year 1913. J. O. Talbott leads and already has more money won than he amassed in all of last year's racing. F. J. Hoiland and J. Schreiber have good reason to view their stable returns with contentment. By the time a month more rolls by the big stables, or some of them, will come into action and, with valuable stake races to be won, it is more than probable that a new leader will move into view. In the meantime the records of the thirty leaders to date are:

and agricultural competition and contests of speed and endurance between horses shall be conducted in this state, and no contest, competition or exhibit shall be conducted on the grounds owned or controlled by the beneficiaries of this act or such beneficiaries until a license is duly issued by the state fair commission and a license fee therefor has been paid; such fee shall be determined by the commission according to the resources of the fair or association, and all of the expenses of the commission shall be met from this license fee. In no case, however, where fairs or societies do not operate more than two days in any one year shall the license fee exceed five dollars for each day.

Sec. 6. License Provisions.—Every corporation or association, or company, desiring to become beneficiaries under this act shall annually apply to the State Fair Commission for a license to do so. If, in the judgment of the commission, a proper cause for the issuance of the license is shown, the commission shall grant the same for a period of one year, and every such license shall contain a condition that all exhibitions, competitions and contests conducted thereunder shall be subject to the rules, regulations and conditions which from time to time shall be prescribed by the State Fair Commission, and said commission, for a violation of the terms of said license, may revoke the same at any time; provided, that nothing in this act shall prohibit any owner of breeding stock from giving an exhibition of the product of such stock for premiums or other reward.

Sec. 7. Report to Commission.—Every association, corporation or company, holding such a license, shall, within twenty days after holding such exhibit, make a written report to the State Fair Commission, according to the schedule submitted by such commission.

Sec. 8. Bookmaking, etc., Prohibited.—Nothing in this act shall be construed as giving to the commission power to license bookmaking or auction pools or the recording of bets in bookmaking or auction pools, or the acting as custodian of any money bet in bookmaking or auction pools as prohibited and hereby defined in Sections 4718 and 4749 of the Revised Statutes. It may, however, grant such privileges not inconsistent with other statutes as may be necessary for the successful maintenance of such fairs.

Sec. 9. Exhibiting Without License.—Penalty.—Every exhibition competition or contest for any stake, purse or reward, except as authorized by this act, excludes every person, corporation, company or association giving such exhibition, competition or contest from any of the benefits of this act.

Sec. 10. On or before the 15th day of November of each year the president or secretary of each fair or society beneficiaries under this act shall file with the secretary of the State Fair Commission, a sworn statement of the actual amount of cash premiums paid at the fair of the current season. Such statement shall be accompanied by an itemized list of all premiums paid. The secretary of the commission shall thereupon file such statement, together with a recommendation that such fair receive 30 per cent of said list, with the auditor of the State of Missouri, and said auditor shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the state treasurer for such amount. Such money shall be paid to the treasurer of the county fair or agricultural society upon his receipt countersigned by the secretary and treasurer; provided, that the amounts to be paid to any such county fair or agricultural society during any one year shall not exceed the sum of three hundred ($300.00) dollars.

Sec. 11. The auditor is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant upon the state treasurer for the moneys hereinbefore appropriated in favor of the several county fairs or agricultural societies of this state who shall have complied with the provisions of this act.

Sec. 12. There is hereby appropriated out of the general revenue funds of the state not otherwise appropriated the sum of thirty thousand ($30,000.00) dollars per annum, or so much thereof as may be annually necessary for the purpose of allowing and paying such money to each fair or agricultural society.

Sec. 13. State Fair Exempt.—The state fair is exempt from the provisions of this act.

Sec. 14. Repealing Conflicting Sections.—All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

HAWTHORN TRAINING WELL

NO TRUTH IN REPORT GIVEN CIRCULATION THAT HE HAS AILING LEG.

His Trainer Supremely Confident That Son of Hastings and White Thorn Will Win the Kentucky Derby in May—Gossip from Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., March 25.—Round the World, one of the most talked about racers in the country, is now in training at Churchill Downs, and will be in readiness for the big stakes when the thirteen-day meeting opens there on May 10, the date upon which the Kentucky Derby will be decided. Round the World is one of the cracks in the string of W. E. Applegate, the second to reach Kentucky from Juarez. Round the World was not a winner at the Mexican course during the winter meeting which closed Sunday, but she was second to Jim Basey in a race run in fast time. She comes north looking fit. Others in the Applegate string, which is in charge of W. H. Buckner, include Gilby, Flying Feet, Swish, Oakland, Leopold, Jupiter Joe and seven two-year-olds, among the latter being Gladys Y., First Cherry, Oona and Old Ben. The Applegate stable was second on the list of winners at Juarez, its earnings amounting to $5,925. Jockey C. Borel will ride the Applegate horses in Kentucky. He is now in California recuperating from rheumatism. Borel had trouble keeping down his weight at Juarez, but he is now below 110 pounds and expects to remain at that weight. It is probable that Borel will ride El Palomar in the Kentucky Derby. El Palomar is owned by C. W. Clark, son of former Senator W. A. Clark of Montana. The trainer of this horse is John Lowe, one of the best handlers of thoroughbreds in this country, and he thinks El Palomar has a good chance to win the big race.

A report has gained circulation that Hawthorn, top choice in the Kentucky Derby, has developed a lame leg. The truth is that this sensational performer never looked or acted better. His condition is all that could be asked. He weighs about 1,000 pounds and is sixteen hands two inches in height. Trainer Trevey says that he could have sent him to Charleston and won the Palmetto Derby with little effort. However, he did not want to take any chances. "I am going to saddle him on May 10 for the Kentucky Derby. I expect Loftis to ride him, and if the track is fast the public will see a new record for the big race," says trainer Trevey. The latter makes it a rule not to talk unless he knows what he is saying, consequently his statement regarding Hawthorn may be relied upon. Only yesterday Hawthorn worked over a slow course five-eighths in 1:02. He did it handily, causing trainer Trevey to observe that the colt is 50 per cent better than he was in 1912.

Secretary Lyman H. Davis, of the New Louisville Jockey Club, is receiving reports to the effect that all of the Derby candidates are rounding to in splendid style. Helios, almost an equal choice with Hawthorn, is showing promisingly at Lexington. Other likely candidates include Ten Point, Yankee Notions, Lechares, El Palomar, Lord Marshall, Judge Wright, The Widow Moon, Brookfield, Nash Cash, Chilton King, Ringling, Uncle Hart, Donerail, U. Steppa, Frederick L., Streamers, Baskin, The Under, Foundation, Flying Tom, His Majesty, McCorkle, Prince Hermit and Sam Hirsch.

Old Rosebud, owned by H. C. Applegate and trained by F. D. Weir, promises to be one of the sensations of the Churchill Downs spring meeting. Old Rosebud will arrive at the Downs from Juarez on Friday. He will come here unbeaten. At Juarez he won his only two starts in sparkling style. In his first race he ran like a streak for an eighth of a mile, after which he galloped under the wire with his pursuers seven lengths back. In his other start he just cantered in. Old Rosebud is a son of Uncle He was purchased from John E. Madden by W. E. Applegate for a comparatively small sum. H. C. Applegate, a son of the veteran horse owner, had his father's father to buy him to give him an argument. He is expected to beat all the youngsters in Kentucky. Frank Weir, who trained the famous Rosebuds, has Old Rosebud in his charge and also Aunt Mamie and Edith W., which are owned by the younger Applegate. He expects great things of the colt. Weir thinks highly of Old Rosebud and he probably will be a contender in the 1914 Kentucky Derby.

Two hundred horses will be shipped to Kentucky from Charleston for the spring race season, and eight cars of horses will arrive here Friday from Juarez.

SOVERAINE MATED WITH TROTTER.

New York, March 25.—August Belmont's thoroughbred mare, Souveraine, has foaled a bay colt by W. E. D. Stokes' trotting stallion, Peter the Great. Edward Kane, stud manager for Mr. Belmont at the Nursery Farm in Kentucky, reported that the foal stood 30 inches high, with a girth of 21 1/2 inches, and that he was a good, strong foal. Souveraine is a daughter of Rayon d'Or, the English stallion, and Sultana, a daughter of Lexington, thereby combining much that is best in both English and American blood lines. Peter the Great is one of the most notable stallions known to trotting breeding, and the result of this mating will be an interesting study to horsemen and breeders everywhere.

Souveraine is the dam of Half Sovereign, to her mating with Hastings, and that mare was probably the best of her produce. Son, a sister to Half Sovereign, was also a remarkably fast filly and useful race mare. Souveraine is now eighteen years old and has been a prolific breeder. In addition to Half Sovereign, she is the dam of Sun King, by Fair Play; Sandring, Sunstone and Sunringle, all by Rock Sand; Souvigny and Sunnah, by Hastings; Sagapanak, by St. Blaise; Gallant, by Galeazzo; and three colts by Baupoints, born in England.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

W. S. Waukegan, Ill. Maxson had passed into the starter's control and bets on him lost.

H. W. Chicago. The payment should have been on the book's limit of 20 to 1 and the limit applies to track prices only.

C. G. S. Chicago. Vox Populi ran a mile and an eighth over the Santa Anita track in 1:50 with 110 pounds up, December 19, 1908.

J. P. D. Elmwood Place, O. Have no knowledge of any future Derby books being open. Quotations usually come from Louisville later on.

Ambrose, El Paso, Tex. Montzomery's racing record is: Starts, 179, firsts, 37, seconds, 33, thirds, 33, unplaced, 73, and money won, $82,900.

A. H. C. Helena, Mont. The length of a horse's stride depends on its size and conformation, the large horse, as a rule, necessarily having a longer stride when fully extended than a small one. Perhaps what you wish to know is expressed by saying that a horse covers 52.80 feet per second in running a mile in 1:40 and 53.81 feet per second in running a mile in 1:38 1/2.

THINKS AUSTRALIAN HORSES INFERIOR.

R. Wootton, Celebrated English Trainer, Discusses Turf Topics Interestingly.

R. Wootton, who has made such a success of training in England, has left Sydney on his return trip to the old country. It is by no means improbable, however, that he will permanently settle down in New South Wales within the next two or three years, though if he does he will not go in for racing here. So far as his prospects in England this season are concerned, he is very hopeful, and reckons that with the three-year-olds Shogun, Flippant, Fairy King and the unbeaten Walontha his representatives, his stable has an excellent chance of being credited with at least one of the "classics," while several of his two-year-olds are distinctly promising. Chatting about racing generally, Mr. Wootton had something to say on the subject of the horses he had seen here on his trip. In reply to my inquiry as to how he thought the comparison with those racing in Australia some years ago, he said:

"I really don't think they have improved. They look so weedy, but, influenced by the appearance of English horses, perhaps I may be wrong. Still, I have seen very few decent horses here. At one time there was always a good class standing out, but now there is none."
Continuing, Mr. Wootton said "he thought the English horses were much superior to those of Australia over practically all distances. He would not say the English horses included many really great stayers, but then, as long races in that country were few, there was no inducement to prepare them for distances. Every horse was trained for speed, "and," said the ex-Sydneyite, "any decent English plater can beat the best Australian sprinter." He added: "When I first went to England they fairly paralyzed me. I have seen horses there with big shoes on, and, with 125 pounds up, cut out five furlongs in 1:01 in private."

In response to a query as to whether he had to change his training methods on arrival in England from South Africa, he replied:

"No, a great deal, and I soon got used to the altered conditions. The climate makes such a difference in the state of the going from week to week that the watch is of little use, except for two-year-olds and sprinters. One week the air will be muggy and the ground heavy and the following week the air may be light and the going faster, so that in this the main reason for the change upon horses which have been racing. I might add that I always time my two-year-olds, getting those on the small side ready first and leaving the better sorts until later in the year. When I first went to Epsom to train there were few horses there besides jumpers, and I was told would do no good there, especially with two-year-olds. The success of the youngsters in my stable disproved that idea, and now the Downs are much more freely patronized by trainers than prior to my advent; in fact, training accommodation is at a premium."

Mr. Wootton expressed the opinion that Australian horses were overworked, especially the two-year-olds, which did not need the amount of galloping apportioned them by many trainers. English horses were run a lot heavier than ours, always being a bit on the big side. As to our horsemen, he said and not high level of the way most long on to the horse's head at the starting machine. They held them as if they were in a vice. A horse really wanted liberty to get away. "Give a horse room to move his head," advised Mr. Wootton: "the lad who reins his mount up tight before he starts will never make a rider as good as one who gives our few jockeys who gave a horse room, and over a short course he was a particularly good horseman."

"I do not suppose you find much alteration in racing in Sydney?" I queried.
"It's just about the same; but there is too much of the policeman's business about the staidary steward system. The fewer cases they bring up the better for the sport, as it unfavorably impresses people to read that there have been various inquiries into the running of horses at some meeting or other. The reversal of form rule ought to be done away with. There are occasionally some hot happenings, but there is such better as to depend on the reversal of form, inexperience alike by owner, trainer or jockey." Mr. Wootton then quoted a few cases coming within his own experience.

As there are so many valuable two and three-year-olds in Australia he thought that, for stud purposes, it would pay better to import stallions with sprinting than staying credentials, and in a measure trust to luck as to whether their progeny proved good over a distance. Speed was the main consideration. "For racing purposes you want your horses good as two or three-year-olds," was his comment, "and don't wait to wait until they are aged before they are any good."

He regards Swynford as the best horse he ever saw in his life. Bayardo was good, too, but Swynford, whom he thought worth two like Stedfast, was his pick. You could not get a better animal, and he was as even-tempered as a child. Chagour and Shogun looked the best of this season's three-year-olds, but he expected Flippant, a half-brother to Mr. S. Horden's recent purchase, Bronzino, to turn out well. Walontha was a very fine filly and, as he has previously mentioned, he has pleasurable anticipations of the success of some of his two-year-olds. In every way Mr. Wootton was pleased with his trip and expressed his gratefulness to those who had assisted in making his holiday so pleasant.—Pilot, in Sydney Referee.

HIGHBRIDGE'S FINE RACE AT CHELTENHAM.

At Cheltenham, March 13, Highbridge ran by far the best race he had shown in England and, while failing to concede twenty-two pounds to Strangways, finished second to him and gave much weight and a beating to a half dozen other Liverpool Grand National candidates. This was the National Hunt Steeplechase at three miles and a quarter, in which he carried the top weight of 177 pounds to 155 on the winner. His performance was so distinctly promising that "Augur" said of the day following in Sporting Life:

"From the fact of there being several Grand National candidates in the field, the National Hunt Handicap Steeplechase at Cheltenham yesterday became invested with considerable interest. Ballyhackle, however, was missing again, and I hear that he is not likely to be seen out before the day of the big Antree race. This was a pity, as his inclusion, is not an encouraging circumstance, though similar procedure has been adopted in other years with equally prominent horses. The American invader, Highbridge, was saddled in spite of the big burden of 177 pounds he had to carry, and while he suffered a little by Strangways' lead, he was easily the best of the Liverpool contingent yesterday. With Strangways he ran true to their Sandown Park form of February 8, the Tenny horse turning the tables at an advantage of two pounds. Highbridge, however, had to shoulder that amount more over an extra distance of a quarter of a mile, and win or lose at Antree next month, Mr. Fell's gelding is obviously not far from the top of the tree according to our standard. That he will find the Liverpool fences too formidable, I think unlikely, but there is just a doubt as to whether he stays much beyond yesterday's distance. Amongst his prospects, he is put the fact that he will have in the Grand National the lowest weight, 168 pounds, he has yet had to shoulder in this country, while instead of having to make enormous concessions in many instances, he will not be required to give more than fourteen pounds to any animal opposing him."

"General Fox, to whom Highbridge was unplaced at Sandown on the day preceding the Grand Military Meeting, was made joint favorite for yesterday's race with the Gatwick winner, Durrain, wals-Celerity, Blow Pipe, Great Cross, and Gale II, were all preferred to either Strangways or the American, Durrain reverted to his earlier disappointing form by falling, and it was left to Gale II, to follow the first and second home. Blow Pipe and Mavourneen's Ideal—both Antree candidates—running out. Bridge IV, did better than on any previous occasion this winter, but neither Regent nor Great Cross did anything to enhance his reputation."

Elsewhere that same newspaper printed the following additional comment: "Highbridge's gallant attempt to win yesterday under the hunting burden of 177 pounds greatly enhanced his prospects of carrying off the blue ribbon of steeplechasing, as not only did he jump magnificently throughout, but had a rare burst of speed to finish with. He became very nervous when saddled before a big crowd yesterday, if he was a deal about his middle piece, those who looked him over came to the conclusion that the American had assumed a harder trained appearance. He has still some muscle to put on, as might be expected of a horse that had not become thoroughly acclimatized. Nevertheless, he is making every progress."

DANNY MAHER FAVORS STANDING START.

In view of the fact that quite a number of English racing men are agitating for the walk-up, in preference to the standing start, Danny Maher's opinion on the subject of value is of interest. He has failed, one reason why it would not do," he continued, "is that the older, stronger, more experienced jockeys would be sure to jump off and try to get a bit the best of it; the lightweight would go a little, and these little boys, not being able to stop the Strangways in time, would burst through the tapes. The gate gives the boys—the little boys—a better chance, there is no doubt about that. The older jockeys cannot steal an advantage. Before the gate came horses often used to get out of hand and gallop a furlong or more before they were pulled out and brought back. The machine does away with that."

STALLIONS FOR PUBLIC SERVICE.

National Government Announces Regulations for the Breeding of Army Remounts.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—Elaborate preparations for use in the encouragement of the breeding of horses for military purposes. Four Morgans, ten standard breeds, eleven American saddle horses and nine thoroughbreds have been purchased. Three stallions, with four or five Morgans from the Morgan horse farm and six thoroughbreds presented to the government, will be available for public service during the season of 1913, making a total of at least forty-four stallions. Local wishes will be respected and the breed of the stallion placed in a community will be that which is most generally preferred by that community. Accordingly, the Morgans will be sent to Vermont and New Hampshire, the thoroughbreds mainly in Virginia, the saddle horses and standard breeds mainly in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Furthermore, every effort is to be made to avoid competing with privately-owned stallions, and horses will not be placed in communities which are already supplied.

"The government has not spared expense in the purchase of horses. The first requisites were that they should be good, sound individuals, and registered in the proper stud books. Good breeding was, therefore, essential, and in many cases stake and market value were obtained, but no horse was bought solely because he was a race winner or solely on account of his pedigree.

"These horses will be available for public service on liberal terms. The owners of sound mares, with a square trotting gait, may breed such mares free of charge, provided they give the government an option on the foal during the year it is three years of age at $150. However, the government will not hold the breeder of a foal to his option, if he wishes to be relieved, but will allow him to cancel the option at any time by paying the service fee. This fee will be $25 for mature stallions and less for those under five years of age. In buying the costs the War Department has agreed to purchase both mares and geldings. No service fee will be charged unless the owner elects to cancel his option. If the government buys the colt no fee is charged; if the colt is offered to the government and purchase refused no fee is charged.

"On account of the provision for free service, the government believes that the mares bred should be suitable for the purpose, and, therefore, it will be necessary to breed only those which are free from the following unsoundnesses: Bone spavin, ring bone, side bone, heavy stringhalt, lameness of any kind, roaring, periodic ophthalmia and blindness, partial or complete. Mares must also be free from manifest faults of conformation, such as ency biceps; pacing mares will not be bred. Approved stallions will be given a certificate of registration in the remount broodmare register of the Agricultural Department."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The starting machine was first used in England during the Lincoln Spring Meeting of 1900. It was then confined to two-year-old races.

It is generally agreed that the starting of Mars Cassidy during the recent Juarez meeting left little to be desired, being uniformly excellent.

James Osborne will go to Winnipeg in May to enter upon his duties as starter in connection with the racing in the Canadian Northwest.

Australian horses frequently go to India to race and it is notable that many of them fail to after wards show their good form.

If there is no racing on the New York tracks, J. L. Hall will serve as an official on the Oklahoma circuit.

John McDonald, under whose management the stable of Mrs. M. R. Farmer was raced at Juarez was one of a considerable delegation of horsemen who passed through Chicago yesterday on their way to the east from the Mexican coast.

The ministers of Texas have instituted a strong campaign against the bill to restore betting on horse races, which has been reported favorably by the House committee on criminal jurisprudence. The measure restricts betting to the pari-mutuel system.

J. E. Pike, a prominent and successful Australian jockey, has sailed for England, where he will ride as a free lance. It is understood that R. Wootton, the Australian trainer who has done well in England, will extend him a helping hand upon his arrival.

A feature of the racing at Melbourne and Sydney meetings since the new "Australian Rules of Racing" came into force on November 12 last, has been a noticeable increase in the number of instances in which apprentice allowances are now availed of.

Baron Springer, a well-known Austrian breeder and owner of thoroughbreds, has seven times headed the winning list in his country and been nine times second in the course of the last twenty years. His winnings in stakes during that period amount to $1,170,965.

The Western Australian Turf Club made a profit of $55,000 on its recent Perth Cup meeting. Last year the club made a profit of $47,250, and increased the stake-money for the annual meeting from $50,000 to $58,000, while extra money was also set apart for other races.

W. H. Smith, who has ridden in Australia for more than fifteen years, has just signed a contract for the coming year that provides for the payment of $2,500 and 10 per cent of his winnings. This is described as the most liberal retaining fee paid any jockey in Australia.

W. C. Clancy has leased three of his stable to go to the northwest, including Rosamo, Ben Stone and Miss S. Y. He has made arrangements with H. W. Hoag to look after these horses while he goes to Kentucky with Gennard, Little Jane, Fern L., Kenneth, Garter and Cosgrove.

During the recent four days' racing held by the Tasmanian Turf Club at Mowbray, $187,055 passed through the totalisators, while for the four days at Elwick the amount was $167,790, being an increase in favor of Mowbray of $19,245. Of the total amount the clubs retain 5 per cent, and the government receives 1 per cent for supervision.

The Juarez shipment to Kentucky includes the horses of W. H. Fizer, J. Griffin, F. J. Grofer, J. Schreiber, W. C. Clancy, K. Spence, J. C. Calum, J. H. Mead, W. Harley, Earl Linnell, J. H. Devenport, C. W. Clark, M. Foley, P. T. Sheridan, F. M. Otis, Fitzgerald & Carr, T. Carroll, P. Hyams, J. F. Newman, G. M. Odum, W. R. Mizell and Frank D. Weir.

Most of the bookmakers who operated steadily at Juarez are reported to have made a profit. Ray Offutt is credited with being the biggest winner among the layers, having overcome a big deficit that attended his operations during the early days of the post before making an attempt to get in line, and then came a long and vexatious delay before the field finally straggled off the mark.

Something like a record in delays at the post was achieved at the recent Gore meeting in New Zealand when the field for the President's Handicap hung at the post for forty minutes. The horses were ten minutes in the parade ring, a similar period at the post before making an attempt to get in line, and then came a long and vexatious delay before the field finally straggled off the mark.

The German Government has bought the eight-year-old Australian stallion Parsee by Metal—Fong. As a yearling Parsee was bought for $825 and won, among other races, the Australian Jockey Club Derby, Caulfield Guineas, and Australian Jockey Club Craven Plate. During the last three or four years several horses have been sent from Australia to Germany, but nothing of the class of Parsee, whose sale price was $8,750.

The recently-published conditions of the Grand Steeplechase de Paris show the added money for an event to have been raised from $25,000 to $30,000. The race is run at four miles and is the most valuable steeplechase in the world. Founded in 1874, under the title of the Grand National de France, it was originally worth but $6,000. When its name was changed to its present appellation, in 1882, its value was increased to $10,000. In 1889 it was again augmented to $24,400, and in 1905 it attained $25,000.

The program issued by the Queensland Turf Club (Brisbane) for its autumn meeting on May 31 and June 3 and 7, gives some idea of the manner in which racing is flourishing in the northwest section of Australia. Some $36,750 for three days is something for a club to be proud of, and the question naturally arises whether, without the assistance of the totalisator, it would be in a position to give $10,000 for one race and $5,000 for another. The surprising part is that the totalisator funds so much favor in Brisbane, as the deductions are exorbitant, amounting to something like three shillings in the sovereign. Although an advocate of the machine, I should not care to patronize it on these terms, and if we ever do get it in New South Wales, it is to be hoped the 8 per cent deduction obtaining in France will be considered sufficient for all purposes.—Sydney Referee.

NO COLOR LINE IN AUSTRALIA.

In Australia we do not draw the "color line" in the matter of race horse ownership, and if an aboriginal wished to nominate a horse for a big event it is improbable that any objection would be raised. It is different in some parts of South Africa and recently there was a big outcry in racing circles on the Rand because the Johannesburg Turf Club accepted an entry from a colored man, Basuto, chief. The idea obtained that the precedent created would lead to great difficulties in the future, and referring to the position an exchange says: "Hitherto the policy of the Turf Club has been extremely strict, colored trainers for horses running under their rules being barred," also colored jockeys. Natives and Indians have been allowed to run horses in Natal and at the Cape, but this practice has been tabooed in the Transvaal, and it is felt that a great mistake has been made in departing from the policy enforced for so many years. Moreover, it is pointed out that whilst the nomination of a native has been accepted, the Turf Club will not allow a white woman who owns horses to enter them at their meetings. A number of members of the Turf Club have openly declared their intention of resigning if the new policy is continued."—Sydney Referee.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

On account of the confusion arising out of the situation created by the telegraphic service trouble of the past few days, charts of Sunday's racing at Juarez and Monday's racing at Charleston are reprinted in this issue.
